

Iona's lighthouse writing.

28/1/21

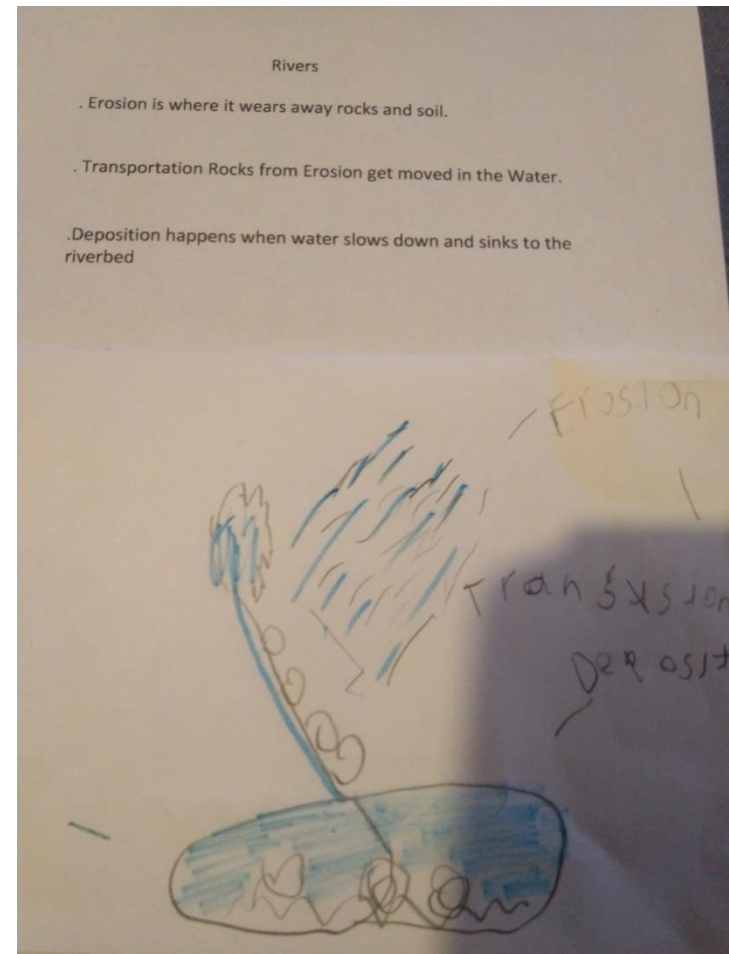

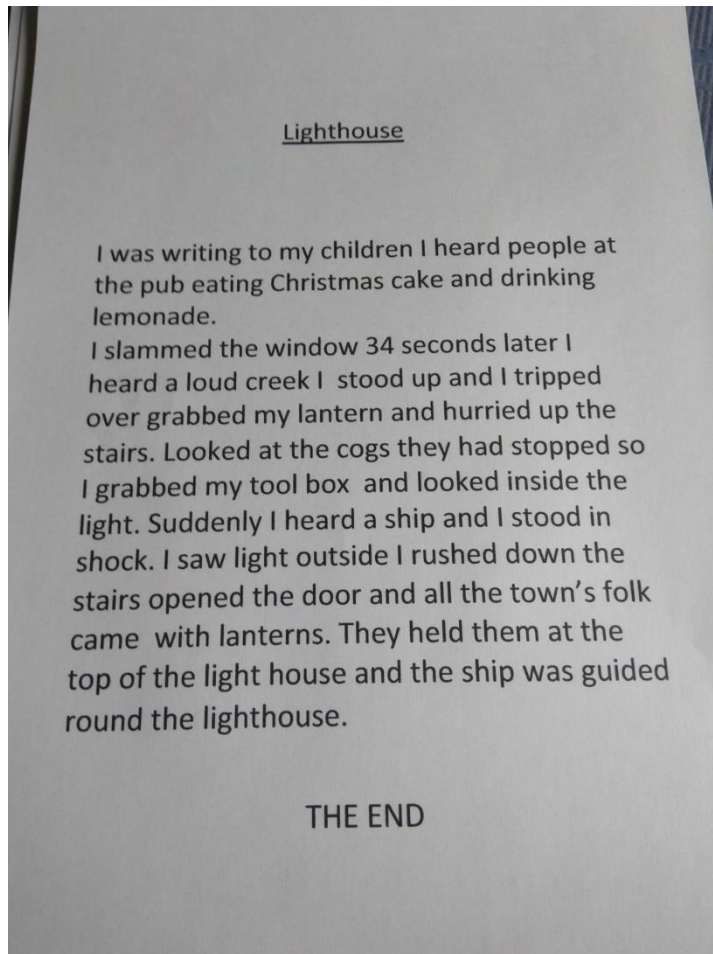

I was working at a table in my living quarters in the tower. Distracted by the noise of the repeated cheering, I attempted to block out the sound by closing the open window. Suddenly, the lighthouse went in to darkness, I stood up knocking over the books from the table. I grabbed my tool box and ran up the stairs, when I got up there I put my head in the glass container to see what happened. I tried picking it up but I tripped over the tool box with the light but as soon as I was on the floor the glass broke. I hear the boat come closer to the rocks. I saw lights coming towards me from the village. I ran down the stairs, opening the door seeing everyone coming with ladders, we all ran up the stairs holding the ladders out for the boat so the boat doesn't crash.
