

Topic Knowledge Organiser

Year: 1/2 Term: Spring 2

Topic: Scrumdlyumptious— Royal banquets, the history of food.

Prior knowledge/key knowledge

Prior knowledge

Year 1/2

- The current King of the United Kingdom is Charles III.
- There have been previous kings and queens before Charles III including Elizabeth I and Charles II who was king during the Great Fire of London.
- Children have briefly looked at timelines.

What a timeline is and how to use one correctly.

To be able to put information into chronological order on a timeline.

To understand the chronology of various significant British kings and queens and be able to place some in the correct order.

To understand what Medieval kings and queens ate.

To compare medieval food habits to those of people in the modern day.

To talk about how we know about the lives of some significant people in history and use historical facts to support their opinion about them.

To be able to prepare a medieval banquet fit for a monarch.

Big Questions/Challenging Perceptions

Why has our food changed since the medieval times?

- Who cooks the Kings dinner?
- Where did old kings and queens get their food from?

Key Skills

Develop understanding of time and how things have already happened in the past.

To compare lives of people who lived during the medieval era and why their lives are different now

To use research to think about why our food has changed since the medieval times.

To use sources from the past to think about how our food has changed.

Vocabulary

Chronological	Events put into time order
Banquet	A large public meal or feast with lots of different types of food including desert. It is normally part of a ceremony or celebration.
Coronation	A ceremony in which a King or Queen is crowned.
Medieval	Another word for 'Middle Ages'. It describes a 500 years' time period in history between ancient and modern times. This time dates from 500 AD to 1500 AD.
Monarchy	A monarchy is a form of government that has a single person known as a monarch at its head. This could be run by a King, Queen, Emperor or Empress.
Menu	A list of dishes served at a meal.
Timeline	A way of visually putting events into chronological order.

